

Fulfilment

Optimize your fulfilment by utilizing our scalable solution.

The Gomibo omnichannel platform has been developed completely in-house since 2006 and consists of highly scalable fulfilment tools specific to the telecom industry. Each year these tools help fulfill millions of customer orders in 30 countries. Next-day delivery is available in multiple countries with multiple logistic carriers in different languages. A completely modular system, satisfying your (customers') preferences.

Fulfilment that suits you

The Gomibo software offers endless options: from an integration of your warehouse within our software to dropshipping from our warehouse and inventory, including third-party merchant inventories. It is also possible to place your inventory within our warehouse and we can even run your whole warehouse on our software.

Be in control of procurement & inventory

Manage your warehouse and inventory levels using our state-of-the-art software and algorithms. With these tools you can manage all commercial and marketing agreements with hardware vendors.

Shipping on your own terms

The Gomibo platform supports shipping to 30 countries already. Offer the delivery options that your customers need. Send your packages to homes, work or allow pick-ups in your stores. This can all be configured in a modular fashion.

Save fulfilment costs

The Gomibo platform is compatible with all the major logistics carriers, ensuring the best possible delivery terms and prices.

Gomibo.Platforms

One Platform, All Channels

Website | App | Store | Contact Center | Chat
Self-service | Create new channel